Biographical Note

Mesbah Jalinus was born in Tehran. His education began in Iran and after completion of two years of training in the Technical College at Tehran University he attended a French Technical College in Beirut. Later he moved to France and subsequently to London, where he graduated as Chartered Technical Engineer.

After gaining working experience in France, he returned to Iran. He began his career in the National Iranian Oil Company (N.I.O.C.) but soon moved to the Electrical Industry, where he became the Executive Director of the Iran Electricity Organization.

His reminiscences shed light on the development of the Electricity Industry in Iran.

In later years Jalinus returned to N.I.O.C., where he served as a member of the Board of Governors.
